Educate. Being Smart is Great

WHO WE ARE?

E-LEARNING PLATFORM

Today is the world of images, software, satellites and TV channels. Undoubtedly the establishment of a bridge between the world of meanings and ideas and the conceptual world of perception is important in education. Filling this gap is the most important things that must be done by the curriculum. To achieve its desired goal, there was an urgent need to identify the methods used to present the educational content of a core curriculum, and using new ideas relevant to students' life and their contemporary realities, and the development of scientific, cognitive and emotional aspects.

So we have the idea of launching QALAM platform, an electronic learning platform
